The Lehman Alternative Community School in Ithaca, NY, is seeking qualified candidates in the following areas: Math, Special Education, and Physical Education/Health.

About our school: We are a 6-12 democratically run school, where all members of our community--students, staff, and parent/caregivers--are involved in decision-making. A public school founded in 1974, LACS has been a leader in alternative education for more than 40 years. As a long-time member of the NY Performance Standards Consortium, we use performance assessments and portfolios. Teachers have multiple roles, including leading Family Group (Advisory), teaching extended projects, participating in school trips, and attending weekly staff meetings. Students and teachers work together to create a community of caring and concerned citizens committed to meaningful work. Please visit our website at http://www.ithacacityschools.org/index.cfm/page/lacs.htm to learn more about our school. Also, check our Wikipedia page: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Lehman_Alternative_Community_School

Prospective candidates should be knowledgeable of an inquiry approach to teaching. Teachers at LACS work hard to develop meaningful and rigorous curricula that are largely project-based and put students at the center of instruction.
